

Hello and welcome to another video in the Jutro Digital Platform intro series. In this video, we will take a look at how Jutro Digital

00:09

Platform facilitates your P&C app journey from development to production. We open Jutro Web Apps and navigate to the Deployments tab.

Here we see different instances or builds of the same app, each derived from distinct code branches. We select one of the deployments currently in the development stage and initiate its promotion to the pre-production environment. Next, we proceed to specify integrations, custom domains, and authentication for this deployment. After configuring these details, we click promote. As the promotion process begins, we can monitor its progress under the pre-prod section.

00:59

Once the promotion is complete, we preview the app in its pre-prod stage. This preview shows the app in its developmental stage, but now situated in pre-prod featuring the promoted build number 22. This demonstration highlights the Jutro Digital Platform streamlined process for advancing an app from its development phase to pre-production. This setup paves the way for a successful production launch.

01:11

01:19

01:28

And that's how we promote a Jutro app from development to pre-prod to prod. Check out more videos on the Jutro Digital Platform
